This formula is commonly used in folk songs, spirituals, and protest songs. Because the first line repeats so many times, this formula is ideal for large group singing where lyric sheets are impossible and/or practice time is limited. This also makes writing the song fun and easy.

Each verse has two rhyming lines. The first line is repeated three times and then answered by the last line. We will be writing four verses today.

Write four verses - 2 lines each, but sung as four lines

Verse 1:

(3x) AA

Verse 2:

(3x) BB

Verse 3:

Verse 4:

(3x) DD
